

Some glimpses of old uniforms. Part 5

rock.

Feltnässig päklädning, 1885.

Tojhusmanus

The picture is showing a field exercise 1885.

Uniforms from different times.

This picture also shows dragoons (to the right) - the second type of cavalry, which formed a part of the Danish army in the period up to WWI. (Picture from a children's book)

Uniforms of hussars and dragoons ca. 1910

Front page of regimental history 1937, showing uniforms and some weapons in use between WW I and WW II.

The regiment shown in toys.

Gardehusarer.

GARDEHUSARER

I GALLAUNIFORM

Paper soldiers for cutting out. The two upper types are early types printed before WWI. The type below is printed during/after WWII.

Toy soldiers 5 cm; type "Brigader" made in Denmark from 1946 to 1977.

"Brigader" figures and a single "Tradition" figure.

The well known "Britain's" Danish hussar.

"Tradition" mounted and dismounted figures, on the last picture you can see the regimental stabelle-belt and a beret carrying the regimental badge.

